

Aerial view shows the village center in Osterville. At center of photo is the Baptist Church, whose plans for expansion were given a boost last week when Town Meeting approved an article to sell the old community center land to the church. The parcel is located directly behind the church parking lot. See article on page 2.

(Photo by Mark Cote)